Foreword

Our ambition is for every child and young person from the Scottish Borders to thrive - feeling loved, safe, respected, and able to achieve their unique potential. This plan sets out how we will work together as a partnership to deliver on that ambition, building on what works, listening to children and families, and responding to what matters most to them. We are committed to accessible, child-friendly language and to making this plan meaningful for everyone.

The Children and Young People's Planning Partnership (CYPPP) will deliver this plan with a focus on an accountable and streamlined approach to children's services design, development, and commissioning, as well as ensuring strategic oversight and operational delivery of the plan. The CYPPP are supported by the Scottish Borders Community Planning Partnership (CPP).

The CPP is pleased to approve this joint plan for 2026-29 which sets out a clear vision, priorities, and actions for the future, highlighting our full commitment to working together in partnership to pursue our goal of making a difference to the lives of children, young people, and their families.

Councillor Caroline Cochrane – Chair of Community Planning Partnership

Councillor Julie Pirone – Chair of Children & Young People's Planning Partnership

Introduction

An integrated approach to service planning by partners is a requirement under the Children and Young People (Scotland) Act 2014. “The Act seeks to improve outcomes for all children and young people in Scotland by ensuring that local planning and delivery of services is integrated, focused on securing quality and value through preventative approaches, and dedicated to safeguarding, supporting and promoting child wellbeing¹.”

The Act places joint duties on a local authority and health board to prepare, implement, deliver, and review a 3-year plan. The plan must be published by 1st April at the start of each 3-year period and submitted to Scottish Government. An annual report must also be published at the end of each 1-year period (1 April – 31 March).

The Scottish Borders Children and Young People’s Services Plan 2026-29 continues to place ‘The Promise’ at the heart of our work and builds on meeting key priorities within previous plans. It is rooted in the national ‘Getting it right for every child’(GIRFEC) wellbeing framework and we believe that our priorities will make a significant contribution to achieving the wellbeing outcomes set out.

Working with the following vision, the CYPSP are committed to using their collective resources to create a Strategic Plan to deliver the best possible services they can, for children, young people, and their families:

“Every child and young person from the Scottish Borders will feel safe, loved, and listened to. Their wellbeing will be at the heart of all we do and they will be supported to be their best, now and in the future.”

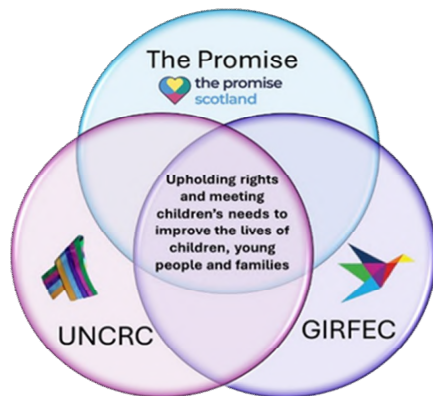

This Children & Young People’s Services Plan 2026–2029 reflects our shared partnership commitment to improve outcomes for all children, young people, and families in the Scottish Borders.

We have developed this plan with a wide range of partnership agencies and used national and local feedback (including the voices of children, young people, and their families) to shape it. We are determined to involve children, young people, and their families in decisions about their lives and protect their rights, and we are committed to deliver actions to address this in this Plan.

National Context

- National Performance Framework: Achieving our priorities, and the actions contained within them, contribute to The Scottish Government's National Performance Framework's vision for children and young people.
- The Promise: In 2020 the Independent Care Review produced 'The Promise'. We see the Promise as the umbrella policy driver for all our work with children, young people, and families. We are committed to keeping the Promise, and this is reflected in the Plan priorities.

- Children's Rights: The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (Incorporation) (Scotland) Act 2024 made UNCRC part of Scottish law. It ensures that children's rights are respected by public bodies, giving children legal avenues to enforce their rights. The UNCRC is at the heart of our plan. We will promote, protect, and fulfil children's rights in all we do.
- GIRFEC: Getting it right for every child (GIRFEC) will be 20 years old in 2026. It continues to provide Scotland with a consistent framework and shared language to promote, support and safeguard the wellbeing of children and young people., It is locally embedded by partners across Children's Services Planning Partnerships, with a focus on changing culture, systems, and practice for the benefit of babies, infants, children, young people, and their families.
- Child Poverty: The Child Poverty (Scotland) Act 2017 sets out the Scottish Government's statement of intent to eradicate child poverty in Scotland by 2030. The national delivery plan 2022 to 2026, Best Start, Bright Futures sets out how we will work together to deliver on Scotland's national mission to tackle child poverty. A new national delivery plan is expected in April 2026.
- National Trauma Training Programme/Knowledge and Skills Framework: The National Trauma Training Programme (NTTP) is part of the Scottish Government's work to support prevention of Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) and trauma across the life-course; and to develop trauma-informed responses for children, young people and adults affected by adversity and trauma. In the Scottish Borders, a multi-agency steering group involving individuals with lived experience of trauma has been established to help drive forward this agenda and promote trauma informed practice within local services for all children, young people, adults, and older adults with lived experience of trauma.
- Population Health Framework: The Population Health Framework sets out Scottish Government's and COSLA's long-term collective approach to improving Scotland's health and reducing health inequalities for the next decade. Supporting people's health and wellbeing is key to reducing inequality, tackling child poverty and building a fairer Scotland. move from reactive services to proactive, preventative, and equitable support that improves life chances for children and young people.

Local Context

There are a number of local plans, strategies and reports which all contribute to delivering our priorities for Children and Young People's Services across the Scottish Borders.

The Scottish Borders Council Plan

The Council Plan from April 2026 sets out a strategic framework for Council decision-making and operations. Their strategic context and vision align well with the priorities set out in this plan.

Local Child Poverty Action Plan Report

Local Authorities and Health Boards are required to jointly prepare a Local Child Poverty Action Plan Report and an Annual Progress Report. Tackling child poverty in the Scottish Borders remains a priority of this plan.

Anti-Poverty Strategy

The Scottish Borders Anti-Poverty Strategy sets out the way in which the Council and its partners will aim to work together to help reduce poverty across the region and recognises that Child Poverty is included in this aim.

Children's Rights

Our Children's Rights Report outlines the steps we have taken, and intend to take, to fulfil the requirements of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC).

Community Planning Partnership Priority Themes

The Scottish Borders Community Planning Partnership work with four priority themes to support communities. These are:

- Poverty
- Learning, skills, and economy
- Good health and wellbeing
- Place, community and connectivity

These themes align with aspects of our Children and Young People's Services Plan.

Equity Strategy

Our Education Equity Strategy 2021-2026 has been developed to ensure increased excellence, accelerated progress and embedded equity in our schools and settings to reduce the poverty related attainment gap and improve outcomes for care experienced children and young people (The strategy coordinates the Attainment Scotland Funding streams; Pupil Equity Funding, Strategic Equity Funding and CECYP Funding to ensure maximum impact.

Education Improvement Plan

Our Education Improvement Plan 2025-2026 sets out key strategic improvement priorities for our schools and settings. The National Improvement Framework 2022 (NIF) requires each local authority to prepare and publish annual plans and reports describing the steps they intend to take each academic year to reach each of the five strategic priorities below:

- Placing the human rights and needs of every child and young person at the centre of education
- Improvement in attainment, particularly in literacy and numeracy
- Closing the attainment gap between the most and least disadvantaged children
- Improvement in children's health and wellbeing
- Improvement in employability skills and sustained positive school leave destinations for young people

Community Learning and Development (CLD) Strategic Partnership Plan 2024-2027

The CLD Strategic Partnership Plan sets out a collaborative, data-informed approach to community empowerment and lifelong learning.

Scottish Borders Council Sport and Physical Activity Strategy 2026

The Strategy is designed to ensure that everyone can participate in and benefit from being involved in sport and physical activity, creating opportunities for everyone to improve their health and wellbeing and achieve their full potential.

NHS Borders Clinical Strategy 2025-2030

This strategy recognises where we need to improve, articulates where we need to get to using a life stage approach and then uses the four key principle questions to illustrate how we make the transition. These four key principle questions will be the basis of each of our specialty proposals to transition into more community based ways of working. The resources from secondary prevention will be used to fund a programme of primary prevention and infrastructure investment. This is shifting the balance of care.

Scottish Borders Health & Social Care Strategic Framework

The Scottish Borders Health & Social Care Strategic Framework 2023-26: serves as the primary strategic plan for the Integration Joint Board (IJB), aiming to improve health outcomes, enhance early intervention, and promote independence. It focuses on addressing critical health issues, reducing inequalities, and fostering partnership working to support people to live their lives to the full.

Joint Strategic Needs Assessment (JSNA) (See Appendix E)

Our Joint Strategic Needs Assessment (JSNA) focuses on the health, wellbeing and development of children and young people from the Scottish Borders through a public health lens. The assessment serves as a crucial tool in understanding the diverse needs, inequalities, challenges, and opportunities that shape the lives of our children and young people.

Our Priorities for 2026–2029

Our priorities are structured around the foundations of The Promise.

The Promise is positioned locally as the umbrella framework for multi-agency planning, alongside GIRFEC and UNCRC, shaping workforce practice, commissioning, participation, and early intervention strategies.

This establishes The Promise not as an optional add-on, but as the core organising principle for how the Scottish Borders system should evolve through the Children's Services Plan 2026–29:

- JSNA findings highlight child poverty, mental health, early years, family support, care-experienced needs, and inequalities - all areas that map directly onto The Promise's foundations of Voice, Family, People, Scaffolding, Care.
- Engagement mechanisms (e.g., Bright Spots, Champs Board, youth participation programmes) further validate that care-experienced young people's priorities align with The Promise agenda.

The alignment is evidence-led, responding to needs patterns emerging directly from the JSNA and local participation data, and many local transformation programmes—corporate parenting, trauma-informed practice, participation, commissioning, early years work—are already structured around Promise foundations.

The Promise emphasises a shift towards early intervention, relational practice, anti-stigma, and holistic support, and alignment with The Promise allows the CSP to anchor its priorities in a child-centred cultural shift, not merely a service redesign.

Our Priorities for 2026-2029

A Good Childhood

01

- Corporate Parenting: Deliver on our five Corporate Parenting Promises, ensuring care-experienced young people feel loved, listened to, and supported into adulthood.
- Health, Mental Health and Wellbeing: Expand universal and targeted mental health support, informed by data and young people's voices.
- Children in Conflict with the Law: Early and effective intervention, with a focus on diversion and positive outcomes.

Whole Family Support

02

- Family Support: Holistic, accessible support for families at all stages, with a focus on prevention and early help.
- Early Years: All children have the best start in life.
- Child Poverty: Targeted actions to reduce child poverty, informed by lived experience and local data.
- GIRFEC: All children receive the help they need when they need it.

Planning and Building Capacity

- Commissioning: Develop a new commissioning strategy based on robust needs assessment and best value.
- Performance and Outcomes Framework: Implement a shared framework with clear, measurable indicators for each priority.
- Participation and Engagement: Work with children and young people to strengthen Youth Participation and Engagement, ensuring all voices are heard.
- Resources: Transparent allocation of budgets, with a shift towards prevention and early intervention.
- Monitoring and Evaluation: Regular review of progress, with annual public reporting and opportunities for feedback.

Supporting the Workforce

04

- Workforce Strategy: Launch and embed the Scottish Borders Children and Young People's Workforce Strategy.
- Workforce Development: Invest in trauma-informed practice, recruitment, and retention, and support staff wellbeing.
- Multi-agency Learning and Development: Joint training on children's rights, participation, and safeguarding.

A Journey through Childhood

A Journey Through Childhood

This infographic identifies critical transition periods where Scottish Borders Council, NHS Borders and partners engage with children, young people and families to support them through their journey. We have divided the journey through childhood into the following key stages.

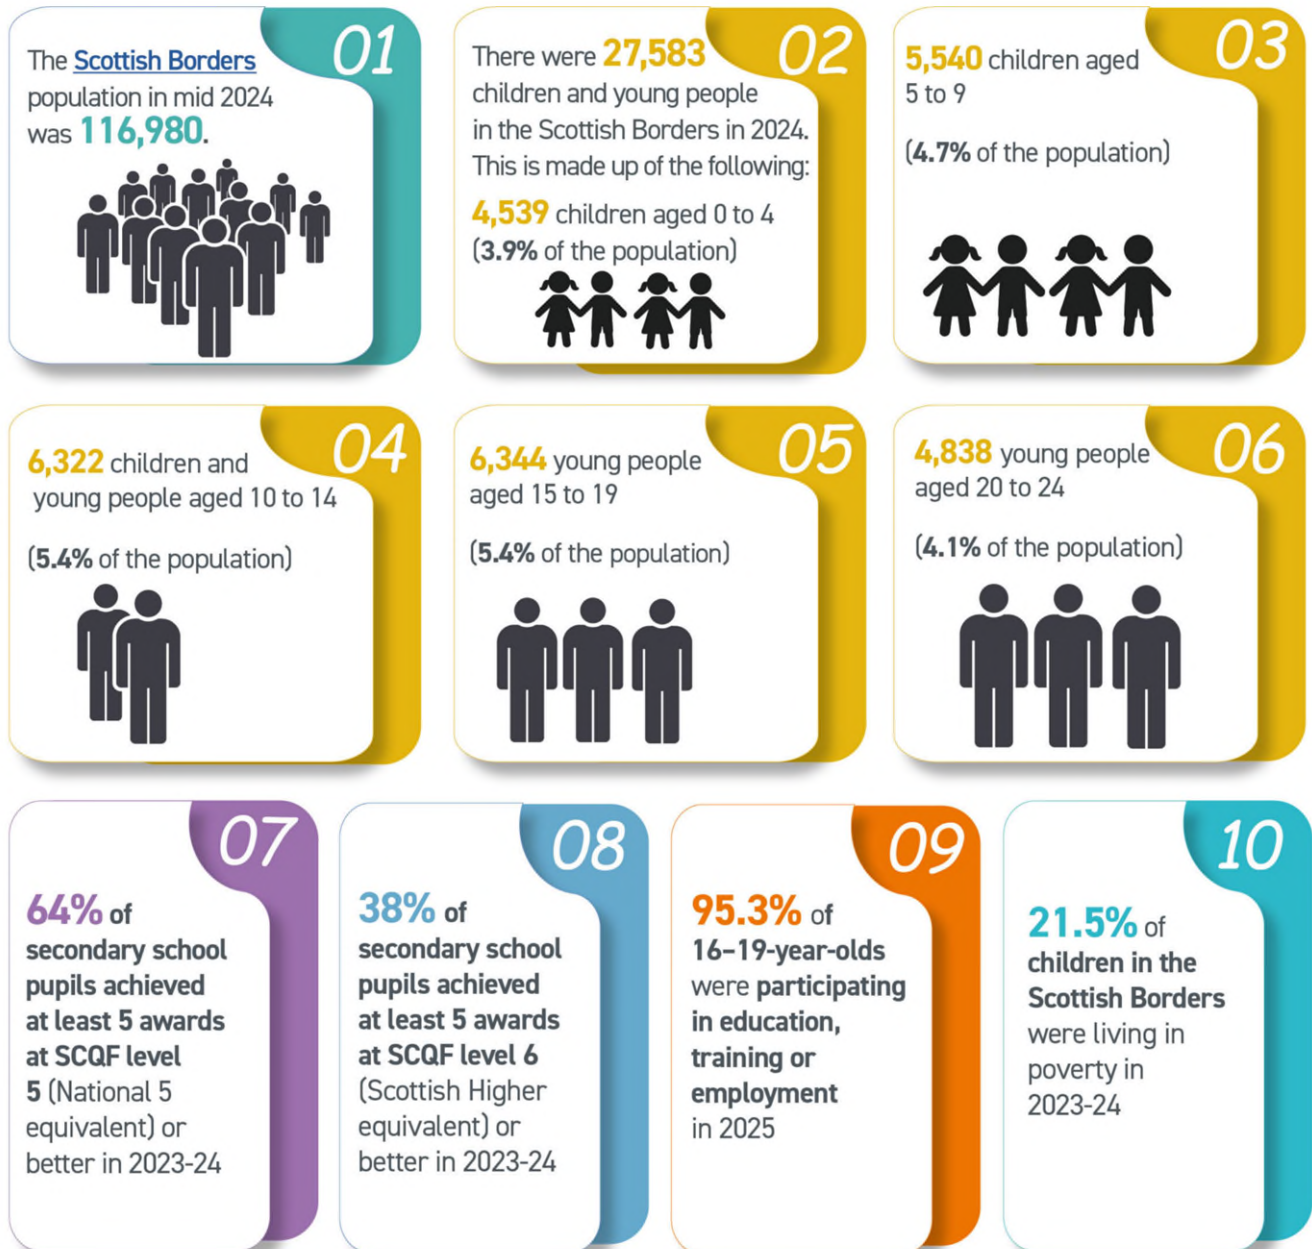

Support is flexible and responsive to individual needs at different points in a child or young person's life.

Engagement and Participation

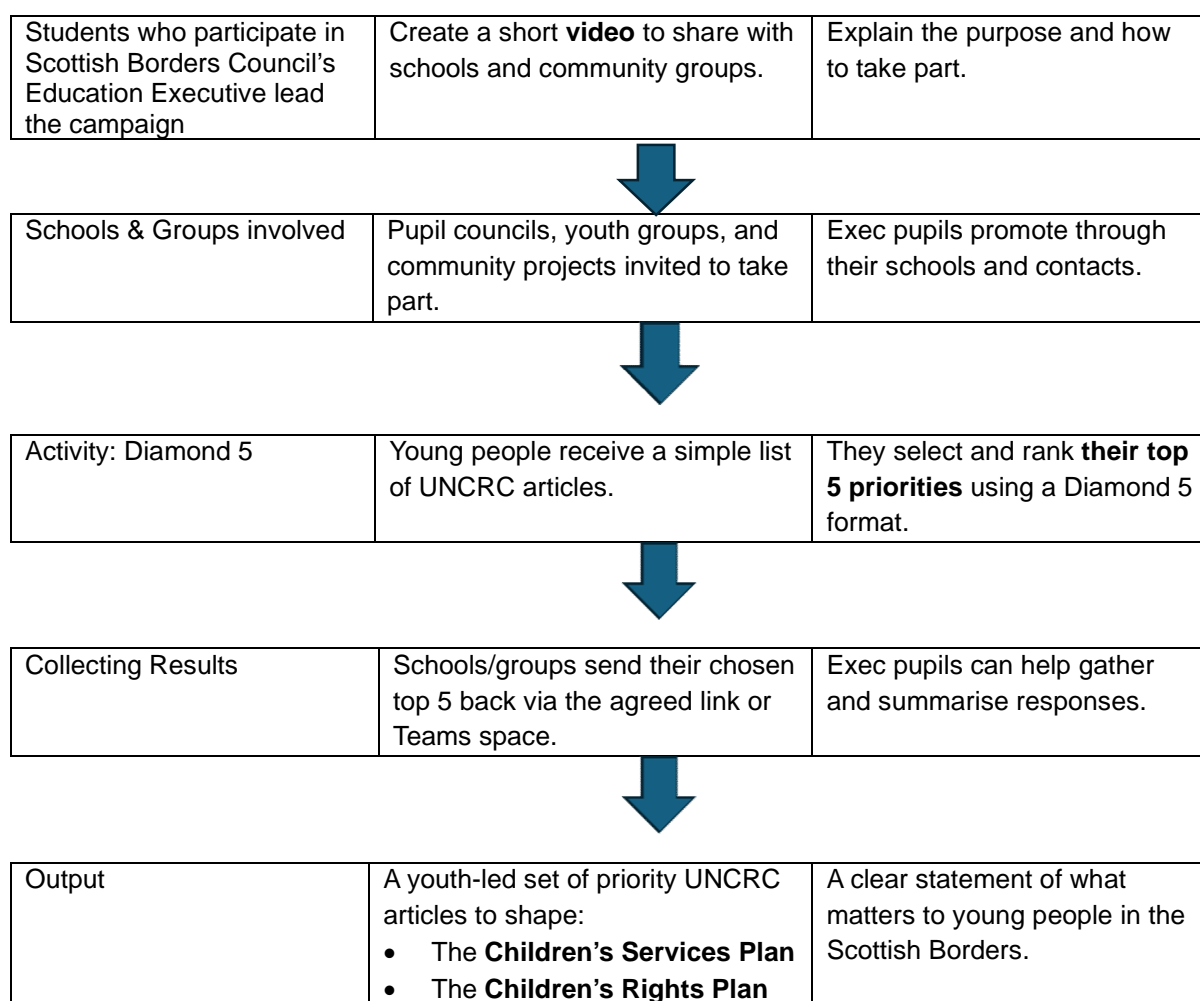

Listening to children and young people and understanding what matters to them needs to be at the heart of all our strategic decision making in the Scottish Borders. Appendix G details a range of different formal engagement exercises which were undertaken with children and young people recently.

A youth engagement mini strategy exercise was recently undertaken with young people to gather their views on prioritising UNCRC rights, and reflecting these in the Children's Rights Plan as well as adding them into this Children's Services Plan to ensure that actions to support these are taken.

Young people across schools and community groups were asked to choose the five UNCRC articles they believe should be our top priorities for the next 3 years. Local data already identified through consultations and community conversations highlighted that there should be a focus on the two articles set out below, therefore the discussions focused on identifying three other articles:

- Article 31 – Right to rest, Play, Culture and Arts, and
- Article 24 – Right to best possible health, water, food and environment.

The approach taken is outlined below and the agreed actions are shown in Appendix H:

In 2023-24, the Youth Engagement Listen to Learn (YELL) project was created to co-produce a youth engagement strategy for the Scottish Borders. The project team involved multi-agency staff and a group of young people aged 11 – 23 from across the Borders. They included young people with different backgrounds, needs, and experiences—such as care experienced young people, LGBTQ+ young people, young people with additional support needs, and those who learn at home.

The team worked together to learn about children’s rights, The Promise and what meaningful participation should look like. They created a huge digital consultation, which more than 1,000 young people across the Borders took part in. The information gathered was used to create the YELL Strategy. The strategy explains how adults and services should include young people’s voices in a meaningful way—from the start of any project, not as an afterthought.

The YELL team’s ambition is simple but powerful: to make sure youth voice is not just a “nice idea” but something that actually happens everywhere, all the time. Young people want to feel comfortable taking part, to be given the right information, and to help shape the future they will inherit. As Darcy from YELL said,

“This strategy is directed to the people in power... This is your chance to get this right.”

Embedding the YELL approach across our services ensures that children and young people can have real opportunities to share their views and be heard. Adults inform children what is happening, consult them to hear their ideas, discuss choices together, partner with them to make improvements, and empower them to help shape services.

Participation is becoming fairer and more inclusive, with extra support helping younger children and those whose voices are not always heard to take part and have a say.

We have many services follow our simple approach of:

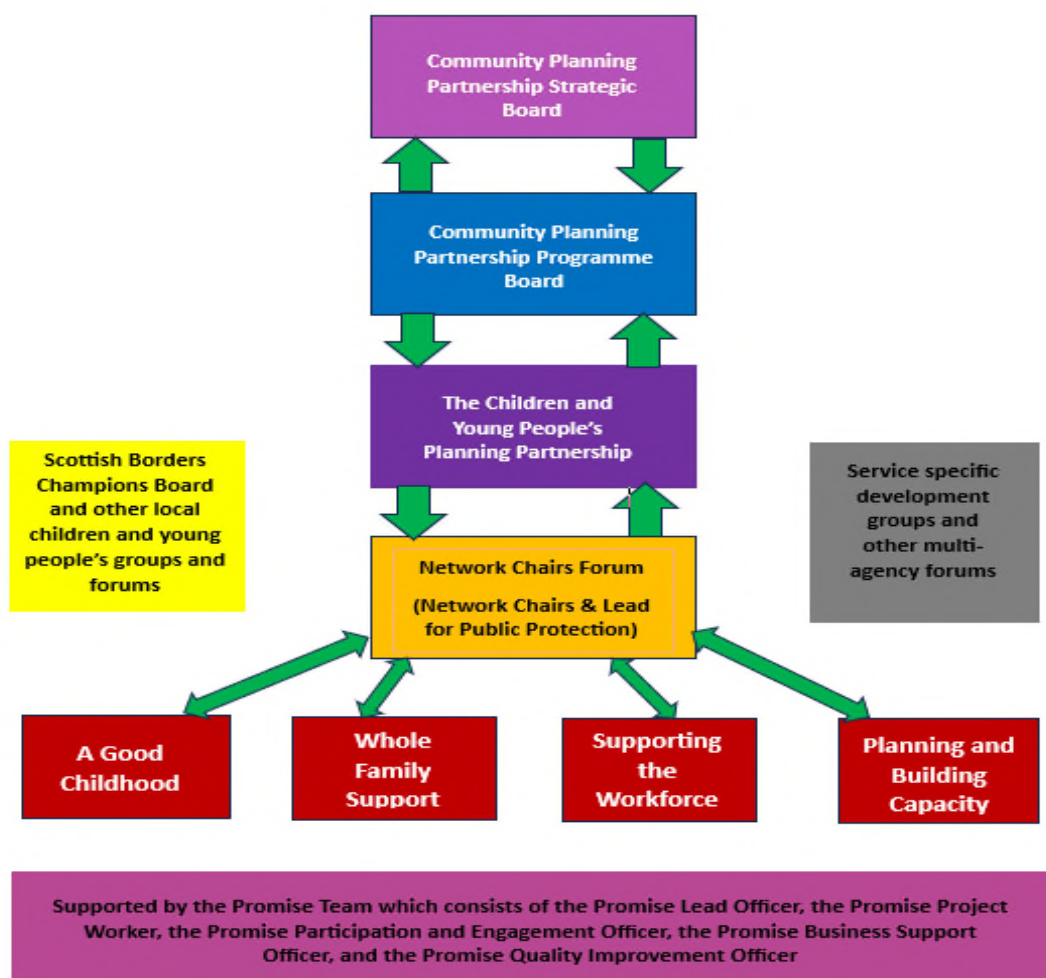

The team are now working with younger children to create child-friendly versions of the strategy, including a comic, song and video. Next, they will work on developing a framework to support adults to engage children aged 0–12—so that every young person, of every age, can have a say.

Our Children & Young People’s Planning Partnership

The Children & Young People’s Planning Partnership (CYPPP) provides strategic leadership for Children and Young People’s Services across the Partnership and acts as the Strategic Corporate Parenting Steering Group. The Partnership reports directly to the Community Planning Partnership and is a multi-agency group of senior managers and executives, with responsibility for leading the strategic direction of The Promise. The Partnership receives reports and updates from the priority networks of The Promise.

Other developments across partnerships

Bairns' Hoose - A whole-system, child-focused model is being progressed to support recovery from trauma within strengthened governance.

Missing Children and Young People - A multi-agency review produced actions to improve the missing children process, which a short-life working group is now taking forward.

CSE/CSA - Multi-agency training has been expanded and ongoing work aligns with the national CSAE agenda to strengthen coordination and action on child sexual abuse and exploitation.

Out of Area Placements - Efforts focus on building local capacity, improving early-intervention pathways, strengthening transitions and coordination, and enhancing governance to reduce reliance on external placements.

Cluster Model Development - A Cluster Lead Headteacher role and enhanced multi-agency collaboration aim to improve outcomes through locality-level planning and shared responsibility.

Permanence Planning - Improving permanence timescales and consistent training and support aim to secure stable, long-term placements that deliver better outcomes for children.

Foster Care - A targeted recruitment and retention plan seeks to address the local shortage of foster carers through increased promotion, support, and training.

Monitoring, evaluating and reporting

The CYPPP will monitor progress over the life of this Plan through a comprehensive performance framework focused on the conditions children and young people need to thrive. This framework centres on keeping children safely within their families wherever possible, ensuring stable and loving care when family living is not an option, and improving health, learning, wellbeing and life outcomes for care experienced children, young people-experienced children, young people and adults.

The KPI set reflects the values of The Promise, GIRFEC and our statutory duties, and emphasises the need to understand children's experiences across the whole system—from early support to permanence, education, mental health, youth justice and transitions to adulthood. Together, these indicators provide a rounded picture of progress in strengthening Scotland's care system in the Scottish Borders.

1. Strengthening families & reducing care entry

Our first priority is to ensure that children remain safely with their families wherever possible. We will track:

- The number of children (0-17) entering care
- The number of children ceasing to be looked after and
- The proportion of looked-after children in family-based placements, compared with residential care.

A reduction in children entering care - and an increase in children able to remain at home or within wider family networks - will signal that preventative and whole-family support is achieving its intended impact.

We will also monitor child protection activity, including:

- New child protection registrations
- De registrations, and
- Re registration rates (within 3, 6, 12 and 24 months).

as indicators of how well the universal and targeted system is identifying needs early and sustaining change.

2. Achieving timely permanence and stable care

Where children cannot remain at home, stability and timely decision-making are essential. We will monitor:

- The percentage of permanence decisions made within six months, and
- The proportion of permanence orders lodged within twelve months of accommodation.

We will track the availability of foster care households, the number of carers approved, and the percentage of looked-after children experiencing more than one placement within a year to ensure that children benefit from stable, loving homes.

Sibling relationships matter deeply; therefore, we will measure:

- The number of sibling groups separated for legitimate (“good reason”) reasons, and
- The number separated primarily due to insufficient resource.

This will drive improvement in commissioning and family based-based placement capacity.

3. Improving education, inclusion & attainment for care experienced learners

Care experienced children have the right to high aspirations, supportive relationships and equitable access to learning. We will monitor-experienced children have the right to high aspirations, supportive relationships and equitable access to learning. We will monitor:

- Rates of school absence above 10%,
- Numbers of exclusions (primary and secondary), and
- The number of pupils on reduced or build-up timetables, to ensure that education partners are removing barriers and providing tailored supports. Improvements here reflect a system where care experienced learners are included, connected and achieving their potential.

4. Access to health & mental health support

We will monitor key health outcomes for care-experienced children and young people, including:

- Timely access to CAMHS, measured by the percentage receiving treatment within referral guidelines,
- Timeliness of Initial Health Needs Assessments, and
- The proportion of children offered their annual health assessment.

These indicators help ensure that all care-experienced children receive the right support early to improve mental and physical wellbeing.

5. Youth justice, safety & reducing criminalisation

Children in care must be supported, not criminalised. We will therefore monitor:

- The number of under-21s in custody, and
- Referrals to the Children's Reporter on offence grounds, to track progress in providing earlier, more relational, and trauma-informed support that prevents unnecessary criminalisation.

6. Transitions: Aftercare, continuing care & adulthood

Young people leaving care must have consistent relationships and support. We will monitor:

- The proportion of eligible young people receiving aftercare,
- The percentage progressing to continuing care, and
- The percentage with pathway plans in place before leaving care.

This helps ensure young people experience stability and are prepared for adulthood.

We will also monitor adult outcomes, including:

- The number of previously looked-after adults assessed as homeless or at risk of homelessness, reflecting the importance of long term, relationship-term, relationship based support.

7. Participation, voice & belonging

- Children and young people must have influence over decisions that affect them. The framework monitors participation through:
- The number of looked after children and young people actively involved in Champions Board and Champs Hubs, and
- Engagement metrics, including social media followers,
- as indicators of visibility, voice and belonging within a supportive community.

This performance framework supports continuous improvement. Together, the indicators provide a balanced, child centred view of wellbeing, stability, safety and opportunity. They support a whole-centred view of wellbeing, stability, safety and opportunity. They support a whole system approach to improvement—driving earlier intervention, better support for families, stable and loving care, strong educational engagement, timely health responses, reduced criminalisation-system approach to improvement—driving earlier intervention, better support for families, stable and loving care, strong educational engagement, timely health responses, reduced criminalisation and meaningful participation. These are “live” indicators which will guide the CYPPP in targeting action, commissioning and improvement across 2026–29. They will complement the annual National Performance Framework data.

Other mechanisms used to monitor, evaluate and report are outlined below:

Outcome focused reporting

Many of the actions within our priorities require reporting mechanisms for a specific purpose and these are also used to update the Planning Partnership. For example, a requirement of the Child Poverty Act (Scotland) 2017 is the production of an Annual Report to Scottish Government. This will also be considered by the Planning Partnership as evidence that the work is being undertaken by partners to achieve desired outcomes.

Self-evaluation

The Planning Partnership carries out an ongoing process of gathering evidence of the effectiveness of each action and priority by visiting service providers, attending celebratory events and other activities. This is an important duty of the group and provides networking opportunities as well as a sense of achievement.

Evaluation

The Planning Partnership is provided with updates from each priority of the plan. This enables them to check the progress being made against each priority, discuss any issues, and provide strategic direction where required.

External verification – Joint inspections of services for children and young people are carried out by the Care Inspectorate. They take account of the experiences and outcomes of children and young people by looking at services provided for them by community planning partnerships in each local authority area. This includes the work of health visitors, school nurses, teachers, doctors, social workers, police officers and other people who work with children, young people, and their families. They also evaluate the effectiveness of collaborative leadership.

Appendix E – Joint Strategic Needs Assessment

1. How the JSNA Was Undertaken

- A dedicated Working Group within the Planning & Building Capacity (P&BC) Network coordinated the JSNA development. Partners from NHS Borders, SBC services, and third sector agencies contributed agency level data and analysis.
- Data sources included population demographics, health indicators, education data, social work information, poverty statistics, CAMHS data.
- The JSNA was framed using a public health model and the WHO definition of wellbeing.

2. Main Findings of the JSNA

- Child poverty identified as a major issue, with emphasis on income maximisation and priority groups (lone parents, disability in household, minority ethnic families, 3+ children, babies <1, mothers <25).
- Need to promote mental health resources, strengthen anti-bullying work, and reduce CAMHS waiting times.
- Inconsistent delivery of early years parental programmes; need for universal availability across all geographic areas.
- Concerns around the attainment gap, attendance, and exclusion rates, particularly in deprived localities.
- Increased focus on reducing adverse childhood experiences and strengthening support for care experienced children.
- Need for sustainable and flexible family support services, including provision out with traditional hours.
- High and rising levels of children with Additional Support Needs (ASNs).
- Need for improved data sharing agreements, better analytical capability, and more consistent self-evaluation across partners.

3. How the JSNA Supported Development of the Children’s Services Plan (CSP 2026–29)

- The JSNA plays a central, statutory and practical role in shaping the new Children’s Services Plan.
- JSNA themes are used to guide the multi-agency resourcing framework, workforce planning, and commissioning intentions—for example, forecasting workforce need in high deprivation-deprivation areas and planning sustainable family support.
- The CSP’s performance/outcomes framework is built around JSNA identified indicators (e.g., CAMHS waits, exclusions, attendance, poverty measures).
- The CSP’s consultation design (children’s voices, YELL strategy, carers, partners, early years) was influenced by JSNA findings around gaps in qualitative evidence and need to triangulate data with lived experience.

Summary

The JSNA was undertaken through a structured multi-agency process involving extensive data gathering, analysis, engagement, and iterative validation. Its findings consistently highlighted poverty, mental health, early years support, educational inclusion, ACEs, and service accessibility as key priorities.

These findings have directly shaped the CSP 2026–29, determining its priorities, informing the performance framework, guiding commissioning and resource allocation, and strengthening the evidence base required to meet statutory duties.

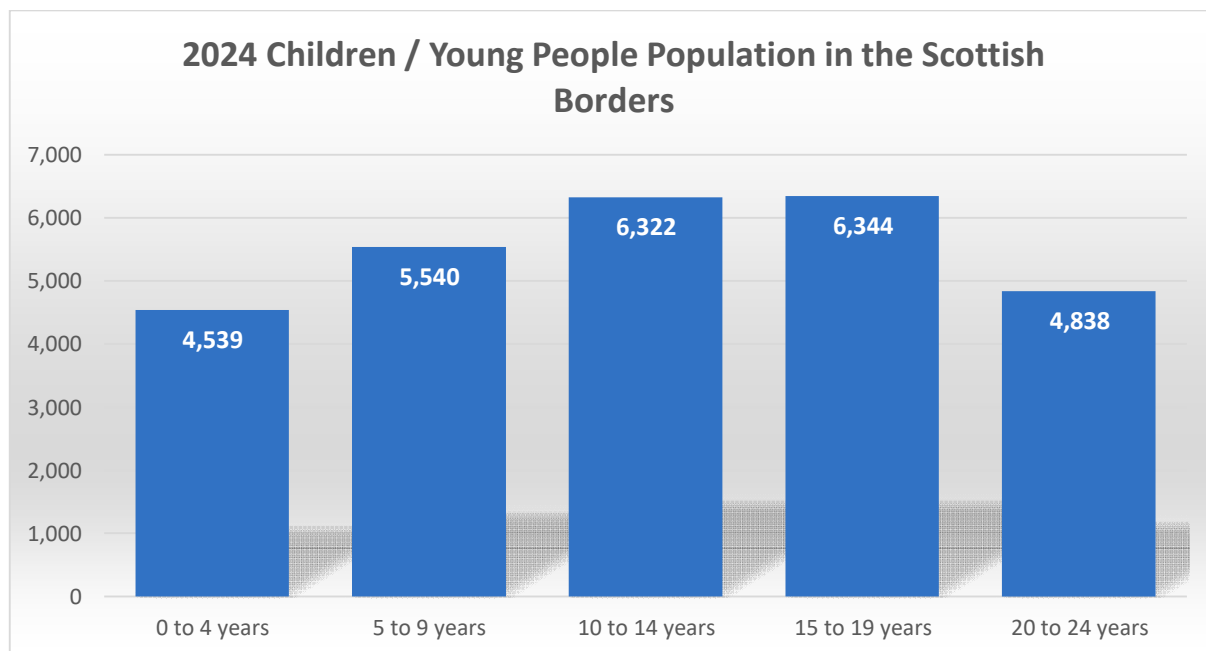

Appendix F - Understanding our demographics and data

Current Population Estimates

According to the NRS profile for the Scottish Borders the population in mid-2024 was 116,980. There were 27,583 children and young people in the Scottish Borders in 2024.

This is made up of the following:

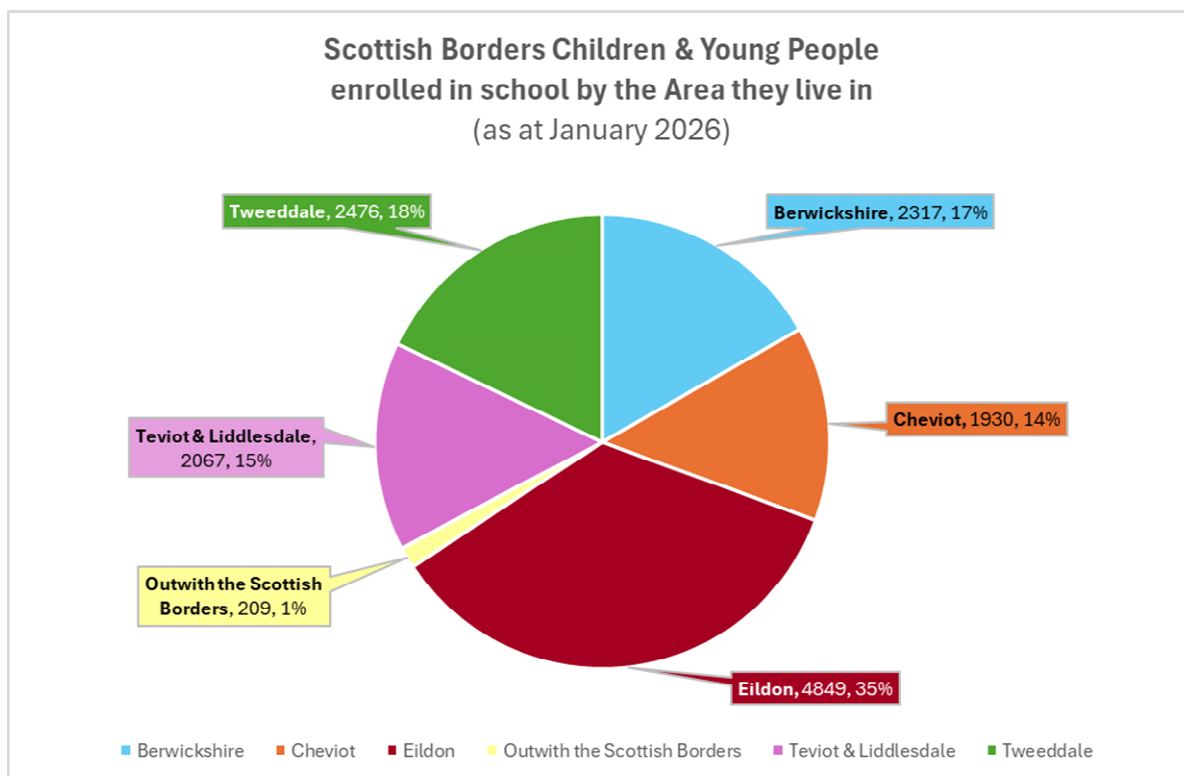

- 4,539 children aged 0 to 4 (3.9% of the population)
- 5,540 children aged 5 to 9 (4.7% of the population)
- 6,322 children and young people aged 10 to 14 (5.4% of the population)
- 6,344 young people aged 15 to 19 (5.4% of the population)
- 4,838 young people aged 20 to 24 (4.1% of the population)

Demographics of Children and Young People in the Scottish Borders

The pie chart below shows the children and young people enrolled in a Scottish Borders school aged 5 to 19 by the area they live in.

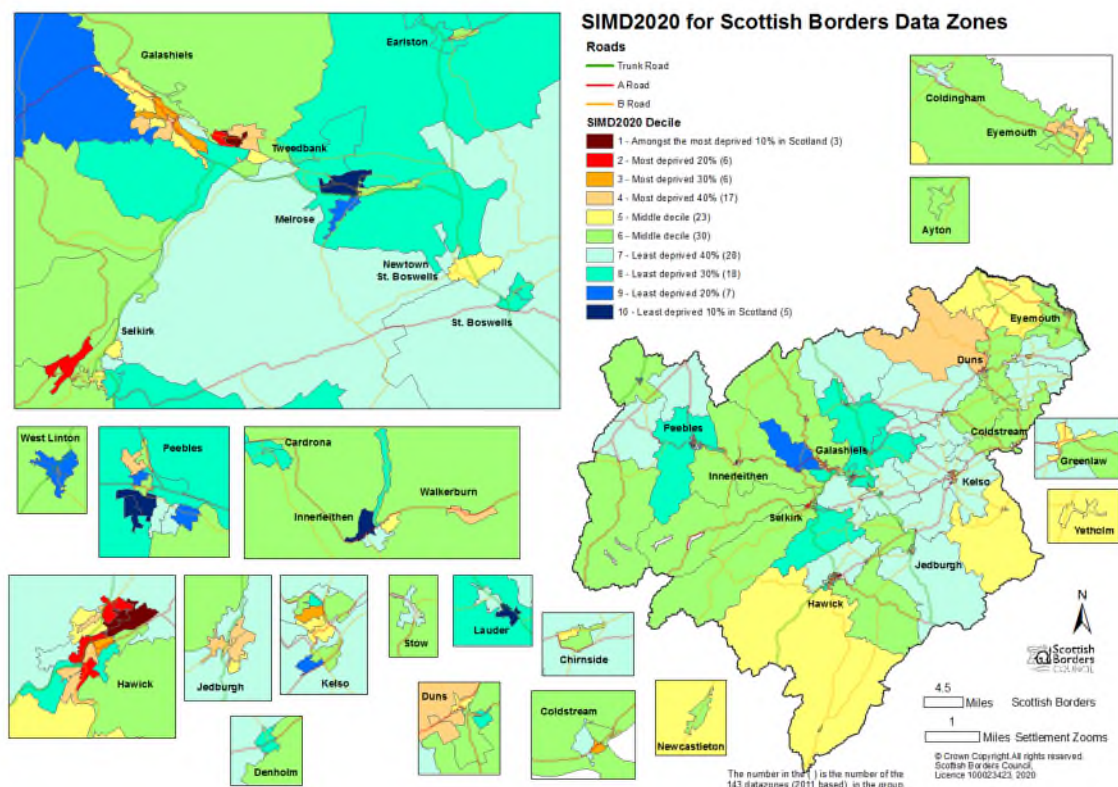

Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation (SIMD)

The Scottish Index of Multiple Deprivation (SIMD) is the official tool for finding the most deprived areas in Scotland². The SIMD2020 consists of over 30 indicators across 7 Domains: Employment, Income, Education, Health, Access, Crime and Housing.

The SIMD2020 shows that the 6% (9) of the 143 data zones in the Scottish Borders are part of the 20% most deprived of all of Scotland, or “SIMD Quintile 1”. These are shaded red and dark red in the map below. A further 16% (24) of the data zones in the Scottish Borders are amongst the 21-40% most deprived in Scotland. The least-deprived 20% of data zones, i.e., “SIMD Quintile 5”, are shaded royal blue and navy blue in the map below.

The distribution of the 143 data zones in the Scottish Borders are shown in the graph and map below.

69.7 per 100,000 young people aged 11-25 years had a drug-related hospital admission during the period 2021/22 to 2023/24, insignificantly below the Scottish average of 114.7 per 100,000. This rate has greatly improved in the past 10 years and is at its lowest ever level.

12.9 per 100,000 young people aged 11-25 died by suicide during the period 2020 to 2024, which is insignificantly worse than the Scottish average of 9.1 per 100,000. This rate used to be below the Scottish average but has increased in the past 10 years.

95.9% of babies received their "6-in-1" immunisation by the age of 24 months during 2022 - 24, which is worse than the Scottish average of 96.2%. This rate had been consistently high at 97% or above for the past 20 years but has recently dipped slightly throughout Scotland.

84.4% of S3 girls took up the HPV vaccine (2021/22 – 2023/24)

93.9% of babies received their MMR immunisation by the age of 24 months, better than the Scottish average of 93.1%, during 2022- 24. This rate had been consistently above 95% for the past 10 years but has recently dipped slightly throughout Scotland.

12.7% of toddlers had a developmental concern at their 27–30-month assessment (2021/22 – 2023/24), significantly lower than the Scottish average of 17.5%. The rate has always been lower than the Scottish average.

78.1% of Primary 1 children were within a healthy weight range in 2023/24, slightly better than the Scottish average of 76.5%.

84.2 per 100,000 children aged 0 to 15 were hospitalised due to asthma during the period 2021/22 to 2023/24, significantly below the Scottish average of 145.3 per 100,000. This rate reached its lowest level ever just prior to the pandemic but has more recently increased sharply throughout Scotland.

78.3% of Primary 1 children had no dental decay in 2023.24, significantly better than the Scottish average of 73.9%. This has remained steady since the current dental health programme began.

75.6% of Primary 7 children had no dental decay in 2023/24, lower than the Scottish average of 76.5%. Dental health in Primary 7 pupils has steadily improved throughout Scotland since the current dental health programme began.

11.9% of mothers-to-be smoked during pregnancy (2022 – 2024), significantly worse than the Scottish average of 9.6%.

5.9% of babies aged 6-8 weeks were exposed to secondhand smoke in the home (2020/21-2022/23 – latest available data at publication), which is an improving long-term trend

43.3% of babies were exclusively breastfed at the 6 – 8-week check (2021/22 – 2023/24), significantly better than the Scottish average of 32.3%.

Education and Vulnerable Children

In 2025/26 the Scottish Borders school roll, as of January 26 was:

School Setting	Pupil Numbers
Primary	7,304
Secondary	6,544
Total	13,848

In January 2025, 1,521 Scottish Borders school pupils (10% of the school roll) spoke a language other than English or Scots as their main language.

- 81 separate non-English/ Scots languages were listed
- Polish was the most common non-English/ Scots main language spoken, with 451 speakers
- Russian with 92 speakers
- Ukrainian with 72 speakers
- 637 EAAL (English as an Additional Language) speakers (4% of the school roll) spoke English at a less than “competent” level

64% of secondary school pupils achieved at least 5 awards at SCQF level 5 (National 5 equivalent) or better in 2023-24. This is below the Scottish average of 67%. This metric has been generally below average for the past 8 years and has continued to fall since the Covid pandemic.

38% of secondary school pupils achieved at least 5 awards at SCQF level 6 (Scottish Higher equivalent) or better in 2023-24. This is just below the Scottish average of 39%.

4.1% of school leavers failed to achieve at least 1 qualification at SCQF Level 4 (National 4 level) in 2020/21, this is above the Scottish average of 3.8%. This statistic has remained consistent and around the Scottish average in most academic years since 2012.

95.3% of 16–19-year-olds were participating in education, training or employment in 2025, better than the Scottish average of 93.3%.

The average absence rate for primary school pupils in 2025/26 up to Jan 26 was:

SIMD Quintile1 (Most Deprived) – 8.9%

SIMD Quintile 5 (Least Deprived) – 4.1%

The average absence rate for secondary school pupils in 2025/26 up to January 26 was:

SIMD Quintile 1 (Most Deprived) – 15.1%

SIMD Quintile 5 (Least Deprived) – 8.6%

1,073 pupils lived in SIMD Quintile 1 (7.7% of roll) in 2025/26

45% of pupils from SIMD Quintile 1 gained 5+ awards at SCQF Level 5 (Nat 5) in 2023/24, compared with 64% from any background - a 19% deprivation attainment gap. The percentage deprivation gap in Scotland is 17%.

18% of pupils from SIMD Quintile 1 gained 5+ awards at SCQF Level 6 (Scottish Higher) in 2023/24, compared with 38% from any background – a 20% deprivation attainment gap. The percentage deprivation gap in Scotland is 16%

Scottish Borders Primary children from the most deprived areas are 18.5% less likely to attain expected standards in numeracy than primary children from other areas in 2024-25. This is a larger gap than 16.6% for Scotland.

Scottish Borders Primary children from the most deprived areas are 23.7% less likely to attain expected standards in literacy than primary children from other areas in 2024-25. This is a larger gap than 19.4% for Scotland.

Poverty

3,330 Scottish Borders families with 5,785 children were in receipt of Scottish Child Payment as at 30 September 2025.

The Scottish Child Payment is currently £25 per week and includes all children aged under 16 from low-income families.

21.5% of children in the Scottish Borders were living in poverty in 2023-24 – i.e. they were in households with a household income that was 60% below the median for that year, after rent or mortgage has been paid. This is lower than the previous year's figure of 23.6% and was below the Scottish average of 22%
