Application for landlord registration with Scottish Borders Council under the Antisocial Behaviour etc (Scotland) Act 2004

The aim of landlord registration is to ensure that all private landlords and agents in Scotland are 'fit and proper' to be letting residential property (Note 1). The owner of every let property must register and declare anyone who acts for them in relation to their letting. There are only a few exceptions from the requirement to register (Note 2). You can also register if you do not own any property, to show that you are 'fit and proper' to act as an agent, or before you invest in property for let.

Members of the public will be able to view each local authority's register of landlords online at www.landlordregistrationscotland.gov.uk. By entering the name and address of a person or company, they will be able to see whether you are registered. By entering the address of one of your properties they will be able to see your name and the contact address for you or your agent. This information can also be obtained by contacting the local authority. Local authorities can also provide the home or office address of any registered person or company, at the authority's discretion.

Further information on the legislation and your obligations as a private landlord can be found at http://www.scotborders.gov.uk/life/housingservices/private\_landlords\_tenants/index.html.

Notes

Note 1

To be registered, landlords and their agents must be 'fit and proper' to let residential property. Local authorities must take account of any evidence that the person has:

- Committed any offence involving fraud, dishonesty, violence or drugs
- Practised unlawful discrimination in connection with any business, contravened any provision of the law relating to housing, or landlord and tenant law and the person's actions, or failure to act, in relation to any antisocial behaviour affecting a house they let or manage.

In addition to the information provided on the form, the local authority will also take account of any other relevant information they hold about you. They will make a balanced judgement on the basis of all the available information, there is no automatic refusal.

If you let property in more than one local authority area, the authorities will share information to ensure they have all relevant details, but each authority will make its decision independently.

Note 2

Exemptions apply to properties rather than to people. If all of a landlord's properties in an area are covered by one or more of the exemptions, he or she does not need to register with that local authority. If some of his or her properties are exempt, the other properties must still be registered.

A property is exempt from registration if it is:

- The only or main residence of the landlord, where there are not more than two lodgers
- Let under an agricultural or crofting tenancy
- Occupied under a life rent
- Used for holiday lets only
- Regulated by the Care commission, in certain categories
- Owned by a religious organisation and occupied by a leader or preacher of the faith
- Occupied only by members of a religious order
- Let to members of the landlord's family only
- Is part of an estate of a deceased person and is being held by an executor
- Possessed by a heritable creditor
- Owned by a local authority or Registered Social Landlord.

If you are unsure whether an exemption applies to you, please contact the local authority for advice.

There are various types of qualification or permission to let house, which go by different names depending on the organisation which issues them, or the country where they apply. This form uses the following definitions:

Registrations or licences are required by law, and are issued by local or central government. In Scotland this applies to registration of all landlords under the Antisocial Behaviour etc (Scotland) Act 2004, and licensing of Houses in Multiple Occupation. You should also include any similar permissions you hold in other parts of the UK.

Voluntary accreditation is something landlords or agents can apply for to show that they meet high standards in letting. Accreditation schemes may be run by local authorities, landlord organisations or a combination of the two.

Note 8

A property may be a House in Multiple Occupation (HMO) if:

- at least three people live there, and
- the people who live there belong to three or more families, and
- they share a kitchen, bathroom or toilet.

All HMOs must be licensed by the local authority. If you think your property may be an HMO and you do not have a licence, please contact the local authority for advice.

Note 9

Each landlord and agent applying for registration should pay a principal fee to each local authority in which they apply and, in the case of landlords, a property fee for each property listed.

Fee Structure

- Principal fee = £82 for the Lead/Sole Owner
- £19 per property.
- £82 for a person who acts as a letting agent who has not already registered or applied separately
- 100% discount for joint owners
- 100% discount for registered charities
- Scottish Borders Council HMO licence holders do not pay a principal fee but must pay £19 for each property which does not have an HMO licence
