Planning for housingQuestion 7*Housing agree?:

I strongly disagree. You should know that building the site will drive more people away than it brings in. The amount of tourists that come to the area for what the countryside had to offer is incredibly high. You will be driving them away when they no longer have quite as much to see and they have to look down on disgusting boring houses covering what used to be lovely green fields.

Question 8Housing countryside:

Building in the area would be a massive mistake. It's not at all like Peebles to do such a big scale building so why do it? The negatives totally outweigh the pros.

Question 19

Other main issues:

I feel this is a complete mistake. You will be loosing a lovely area of country side to houses that will look horribly dull.
